

SERVICE OF WORSHIP

April 2, 2017 • 8, 9:30 and 11 a.m.

ABOUT TODAY'S SERVICE

Jesus had a soft spot for children. We do, too. We love their exuberance, their joy and their innocence. As Jesus said, we need to receive the Kingdom of God as a child would receive it. There is much to learn from children, but on the whole, being told to “act like a child” is a bit counter intuitive. What do you suppose it means to receive the kingdom as a little child?

Call to Worship

Rev. Zach Walker (8, 9:30 a.m.); Rev. Jenny McDevitt (11 a.m.)

Before a path was chosen or a word spoken . . .

Before a war was fought or a winter passed . . .

Before a sword was forged or the seas parted . . .

Before a wall was built or an apple bitten . . .

Before the wine was blessed or bread broken . . .

Before people were clothed or animals roamed . . .

Before a child was born
or a prayer uttered . . .

There was love.

*Hymn, No. 188

Jesus Loves Me!
JESUS LOVES ME

*Prayer of Confession

Eternal God, forgive us as we confess:

We play hide and seek with you, often afraid to get too close.

We grumble when asked to share what we have.

We talk over one another.

We do not stand up to bullies.

We push back against those who try to guide us.

We want more than we need.

We get distracted, and do not always complete the tasks given to us.

Remind us how to live, we pray. (Silent prayer)

ABOUT TODAY'S MUSIC

This morning's organ prelude and choral offertory are settings of a nineteenth-century Swedish hymn written by Lina Sandell. Sandell wrote more than 650 hymn texts! (That's more songs than the Beatles wrote, but far fewer than Dolly Parton.) The text assure us that our heavenly creator comforts, protects, and nourishes unceasingly. The theology of this hymn is simple - it's the theology of a child. In complicated times, perhaps we can learn a lot from the simpler faith expressed by our children.

Children of the heavenly Father safely in His bosom gather;
nestling bird nor star in heaven
such a refuge e'er was given.

Neither life nor death shall ever from the Lord His children sever;
unto them His grace He showeth,
and their sorrows all He knoweth.

Though He giveth or He taketh,
God His children ne'er forsaketh;
His the loving purpose solely to preserve them pure and holy.

THE CHURCH'S BOOK (Week of April 3, 2017)

The following daily Bible readings were written by Rev. Hallie Hottle and are an offering for your own personal devotion. You are invited to read the text, think about the reflection and questions and allow these to lead you in a time of prayer. Pray for your own journey of faith. Pray for Village Church and our mission. Pray for God's world.

Psalm 119:73-80

Psalm 119 is a beautiful thing. It's the longest psalm, and with 176 verses, it's also the longest chapter in the entire Bible. It's a Hebrew "acrostic," which means that the first letter of each line is intentional. The lines of the first stanza all begin with the Hebrew letter "a," the second stanza's lines all begin with "b," and this pattern continues through the entire Hebrew alphabet. Begin your week in this special psalm, and read more if you're able. Take comfort in this word of mercy and love, composed with such intention.

Tuesday, April 4

John 9:18-41

Jesus has done this miraculous thing, healed a man who was blind from birth, and the people can't quite figure it out. The testimony of the previously blind man in verse 25 will sound familiar to you. I find this testimony to be one of the most compelling we have. We want to know the ins and outs of all of life. But in my moments of greatest conviction, I find all I have are words like this. There is much I do not know, but I do know I was blind, and now I see. Have you ever been so convicted that the questions seem to fall away?

Wednesday, April 5

Psalm 27

This psalm begins, "The Lord is my light and my salvation, whom shall I fear?" It's a bold psalm, and a comforting one in this world where there is much to fear. Rest in this mid-week reminder to wait for the Lord, to not fear no matter what enemies surround you, to confidently tell God to be with you, knowing that God will.

Thursday, April 6

Jeremiah 26:1-6

The "second book" of Jeremiah begins here in chapter 26. Where the first book was more poetic in its style, this second book is more narrative. We see the start of that here, as God instructs the prophet to preach condemnation. It can be helpful to remember that God's people were often the target of the prophet's sermons. Claiming an identity as God's people carries more responsibility than privilege. It's a good reminder.

Friday, April 7

Jeremiah 29:4-7

This is one of my favorite passages in Jeremiah. Whether our exile is a real one like our faith ancestors experienced, or a spiritual one that leaves us feeling like we're in a foreign and unknown place, I think we can find helpful instruction here. "Seek the welfare of the city." Literally, seek the shalom of the place you find yourself. How are you being a seeker of peace this week?

Saturday, April 8

John 11:28-44

We end with the story of Lazarus this week. If you've ever lost someone you love, you know Mary's pain in this story. Her grief expresses both anger and faith. She could not be angry at Jesus for not being there, if she didn't believe he could have changed the outcome of her brother's death. And Jesus response to her faithful anger by doing a remarkable thing, he weeps. Whatever you're grieving, struggling with, angry at this week, I'm finding it helpful to know that Jesus does show up, and that he weeps too. Remember, we're not alone in the hard things.

LENTEN SERMON SERIES

The People You Meet Along the Way

Jesus journeyed to Jerusalem. It was a journey on foot and a journey of the heart. A cross awaited him. When you know the end is near your time is precious and you pay attention to the people around you. Jesus spoke with his followers and with a rich man. He noticed children and an impoverished woman. Jesus paid attention to them all. We will pay attention to them as well, and discover that there is a little bit of all of them in us. I suppose that means we are on the journey as well, at least the journey of the heart.
