New Village Connect Christian Study & Conversation Series Titled "Teachers Along the Way"

This fall Rev. Tom Are will provide the next edition of his Village Connect Small Group Ministries video series. This year's curriculum is called "Teachers Along the Way." Sessions will visit with Zechariah who leaves the temple speechless, Jesus who turns water into wine, and a new interpretation of David and Goliath, to name a few. "In each session we will pay attention to these Biblical characters to discern ways that they instruct us in our lives," said Rev. Are. "As we discern the purpose of daily living, it's helpful to pay attention to those who have gone before us."

Rev. Are and design & digital media manager Sean Tatschl recorded the new series in July at various locations around Kansas City.

Sean Tatschl records Rev. Tom Are's new video series.

About Village Connect Small Group Ministries

"Perhaps the most important thing we ever do in life is build and maintain long-term, happy, healthy, fulfilling relationships/connections with other people," said Cindy Wilcox, director of connectional ministries. "Village Connect, small group ministries of Village Church, is a place where friendship can be found and nurtured. I invite you to participate in this meaningful ministry. Most of us would say time is one of our greatest assets, but this commitment takes just one hour a month and I have found it to be a gift in my life."

Through an eight-session DVD video study developed by senior pastor Rev. Tom Are, these small groups provide opportunity to strengthen faith and deepen friendships through conversation. "We currently have 22 Village Connect small groups: 10 couple's groups, five women's groups, one working young moms group and six mixed groups (women and men). Each group of 10-12 participants has trained facilitators and is open to the community as well as our congregation," notes Cindy. "Individual groups also decide frequency, location and meeting times through the school year months (October-May)."

Judy Frame leads the group of women in their 20s and 30s who work outside the home. "We meet the first Tuesday of every month at my house. Our group spends the first 30 minutes connecting socially, then we sit down for 60-75 minutes of group discussion. The beauty of the Village Connect group is that we talk about things that matter as women of faith. Tom's video lessons provide us a structure for our discussions. I think talking about your faith—and how you live that faith through all the joys and challenges of life—helps you spread deeper roots to your faith."

"I particularly like facilitating this group because of how these women care for each other," adds Judy. "We have shared joys (15 babies born to this group since we started) and we've shared the sorrows of death and jobs lost and challenges of life. Although some of the women knew each other before we started the group four years ago, most did not. Now I see them sometimes sitting with a group member in church, laughing with each other in the halls by the nursery, and being 'family' at a baptism. Truly, Village Connect has connected these ladies."

Thinking About Joining a Village Connect Small Group?

"Village Connect groups provide a way to be relational in your faith," says Judy. "You meet people for whom you will care and who will care for you. You give voice to your faith, and maybe in so doing, you deepen your faith and your understanding. If you don't know anyone in the church, it's a great way to meet people on a deep level. If you already know people, invite a stranger to join a group with you."

New groups are forming as needed. If you would like to start a new group, participate in a group or facilitate a group, contact Cindy Wilcox at 913-671-2331 or cindy.wilcox@villagepres.org.

MISSION

The Reason Why- Patients Like Carson

Kids get sick. When 7-year-old Carson felt bad and started running a fever, his parents Pamela and Joe, thought it was just a virus. The fever, however, didn't go away. In fact, it got worse, until Carson had to go to the hospital. A quick check showed that his hemoglobin was dangerously low. He was given three units of blood immediately.

Carson's problem was not a virus or a bacterium – it wasn't one of those bugs children pick up at school. It was hereditary spherocytosis, a genetic disorder.

Spherocytosis affects the membrane of red blood cells. The cells are fragile, and, because of their round shape and lack of flexibility, they can get caught in narrow blood vessels, especially in the spleen. Trapped, they burst, and the result can be anemia and splenomegaly, or enlarged spleen, a potentially life-threatening condition.

But that's only part of the story. Spherocytosis is highly treatable—with a blood transfusion. Once Carson received three units of blood, his hemoglobin was back to normal within hours.

"It's a good thing the blood is there," says Pamela. "And it's there because people understand that donating blood is nothing compared with the difference it can make in someone else's life."

As for Carson's dad, he can't donate blood because he, too, has spherocytosis, but he helps by coordinating blood drives at work. He understands that he and his son are proof that donated blood saves lives.

Four times a year, Village Presbyterian Church on Mission hosts a blood drive. If you would like to share the gift of life, you can do so from 11 a.m.-6 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 13, in Rooms 132 & 133 at Village on Mission. Visit esavealifenow.org and use the sponsor code "villagepres" to make an appointment online, or stop by our registration table in Friendship Hall between 9 a.m. and noon this Sunday, Aug. 11. Contact Ann Colston at 913-722-0165 or acolston1113@gmail.com for additional details.

Food Pantry

Even though hot temperatures surround us, the Food Pantry realizes the value of hearty soups for lunches. Four Sundays in August - if each member would donate one can a week, we will fill the Pantry's shelves! The Clothes Closet needs donations of housewares for the Closet's clients - dishes, small appliances, kitchen utensils, pots and pans - the Closet has plenty of room on the shelves for these items. Please help with your continuing donations during these summer months.

Village Church BackSnack Sign-Up Coming Soon

The 2019-2020 school year is just around the corner and Village Church members Nancy Gatewood and Debbie Smith invite you to consider helping out with the BackSnack ministry at Village this year.

Harvesters' BackSnack program provides a weekly bag filled with nutritious, child-friendly food for schoolchildren to take home over the weekend. More than 100,000 children in Harvesters' service area receive free and reduced-price school meals during the week, and many of those are at risk of hunger on weekends. School principals and/or counselors determine which children receive BackSnacks at each school.

For the past 10 years, Village Church volunteers have participated in the BackSnack program and during the 2018-2019 school year, Village provided food weekly to 80 children at Overland Park Elementary and Nieman Elementary, totaling more than 1,500 meals for the year. Food is generally packed up on a Wednesday at the Village Food Pantry and delivered on Thursday or Friday.

Thanks to the efforts of Harvesters and organizations such as Village Church, participating schools report improved grades, attendance and behavior with students better prepared to focus and participate in school.

Space fills quickly. If you are interested in helping to pack and distribute meals to our partner schools during the 2019-2020 school year, call Nancy Gatewood at 913-638-1922 or nngatewood@gmail.com or Debbie Smith at 913-522-8130 or debbie.smith@villagepres.org.

SUMMER SERMON SERIES

People Like Us Through Aug. 18

The Bible is filled with stories of people. Some of them are of amazing and inspiring folks. Others' stories tell of folks in desperate need. Many tell of ordinary times. These people we discover in pages of sacred scripture are, however, people like us. This summer we will meet – or meet again – a collection of people who can serve as examples as we seek to live as God's children amidst the realities of the world in our time and place.

Village Bids Farewell to Kathy Lueckert, Director of Finance & Administration

At Kathy Lueckert's Farewell Reception on Sunday, July 21, Rev. Tom Are told the crowd, "In five years, Kathy has made a big mark on this church. One of her gifts is leading so many on this staff team. In her five years of service she's overseen the completion of the Meneilly Center for Mission, the Sanctuary renovation, the installation of the organ, the Welcome Center and opened our second campus at Antioch. It's dramatic and it's significant... Village is better because of Kathy Lueckert. She doesn't just work at the church. She loves the church. That is why she has ushered her remarkable skill to make us a better church and who God calls us to be." To Kathy he said, "We are a stronger church because of your presence in our midst and we thank you."

In her parting comments, Kathy said, "Thank you for letting Don and I be part of your family for five years. You have loved us, and we love you. It's been an honor and a privilege to be part of the staff. Working here at Village has really prepared me for this new gig [Kathy will be president of Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.) A Corporation in Louisville, Kentucky]. The scope of things that happen in this building on any given day have been excellent training. I send my love to each and every one of you and will miss you deeply. Thank you!"

Rev. Tom Are presents Kathy a gift from the church.

Village Welcomes Bob Sperry as Interim Director of Finance

Village Church member Bob Sperry is now serving as part-time interim director of finance. Bob has been coming to Village since he was five years old when his parents joined the church. He spent 39 years in banking before his retirement in 2008, and has served the church in a variety of ways.

"I've been on about every building committee that Village had from the year 2000 on," said Bob. "I've been in the choir for 43 years. I run the sound booth for weddings and fill in on Sundays. I play the pipe organ and was on the organ committee for 8½ years. I'm treasurer of the pastoral care & counseling committee, so I'm familiar with the church's bookkeeping system. I think it will be a smooth transition."

"The Personnel Committee has already established a search committee to find our next director of finance and administration," said Rev. Tom Are. "I hope that happens by year end at the latest, but I am thrilled that Bob will be with us during the interim."

Sunday, Aug. 18, is "Promotion Sunday" in Village Church Kids Kingdom. That means your kids move up to their new classrooms for the year. The school year is upon us!
