

SERVICE OF WORSHIP

October 27, 2019 • 8, 9:30 and 11 a.m.

ABOUT TODAY'S SERVICE

The prophet Ezekiel speaks good news with a surprising twist. He proclaims that the judgment is over and restoration will come. It was the same message that we sing each Christmas from Isaiah: Comfort, Comfort ye my people! But Ezekiel humbles us, as Ezekiel declares that God is gracious in order to protect God's reputation—a reputation that God's people have damaged. Ezekiel raises an important question: How do our choices affect God's reputation?

A LOOK TOWARD NEXT SUNDAY. . .

You hear this prayer every Sunday: We believe, help our unbelief. Next Sunday we will begin a series exploring this prayer. You know that Village welcomes questions. We trust that God is never intimidated by our wondering. Not only this, but we also confess that Christian faith invites us to trust that which is so large, so transformational, that it is never easily believed without at least a hint of unbelief.

Congregational Meeting Sunday, Nov. 3

The Session has called a Congregational Meeting for next Sunday, Nov. 3, for the purpose of acting on a report from the Associate Pastor Nominating Committee. The meeting will be convened following the 9:30 a.m. worship service.

THE CHURCH'S BOOK (Week of October 28, 2019)

The following daily Bible readings were written by Rev. Hallie Hottle and are offered for your own personal devotion. You are invited to read the text, think about the reflection and questions and allow these to lead you in a time of prayer. Pray for your own journey of faith, pray for Village Church, pray for the community around you, and pray for all of creation.

Monday, Oct. 28

Psalm 145

Yesterday we concluded our sermon series on prophets, and Sunday we'll begin a new series looking towards stewardship. But for today, for right now, we root our week in this morning psalm of praise. Read and meditate. Offer up your own praise for the goodness around you.

Tuesday, Oct. 29

Revelation 4:1-11

This is a strange reading for today. We often get caught in the symbolism of Revelation, and prevent ourselves from experiencing it as story. This week brings to us three holy days that aren't widely celebrated in our presbyterian tradition, that give us opportunity to consider our heavenly beyond. Use this reading today to let yourself imagine the beauty of heaven. Here we find jasper and emerald and seas like crystal. What do you imagine heaven is like? Let yourself wonder.

Wednesday, Oct. 30

Revelation 5:1-10

In this reading we encounter harps and "golden bowls full of incense, which are the prayers of the saints." It's a strange, beautiful image. What's it like to imagine your prayers as incense, filling the heavens with fragrance? Offer up some prayers today, burn some incense if you can, and give special thanks for your friends of faith - the other saints in your midst adding your name into those heavenly bowls of incense.

Thursday, Oct. 31

Psalm 130

Today is Halloween! Halloween, or All Hallows' Eve, begins a three-day celebration to remember those we have loved and lost. Some traditions believe that the realms of heaven and earth come close this night, so candles are lit to welcome the souls of those we love. If you've never tried it, light some candles tonight at sunset, and pray in thanksgiving for those you know who now rest with God.

Friday, Nov. 1

Today is All Saint's Day! It's the day we remember all our "saints," which is what we, as protestants, call all who have died. Continue to light your candles from yesterday, and give thanks for our all our saints, especially all those who have joined the Church Triumphant from Village Church this year.

Saturday, Nov. 2

Today is All Soul's Day! It concludes this three-day celebration of all those who have died. Our friends in Mexico use this day to visit the gravesides of those they love, and leave decorations or gifts. Some prepare the favorite meal of someone no longer with us, and enjoy it with family and friends as they remember and celebrate that life. The traditions of those who most actively practice these days do so with fanfare and joy. If your heart is achy with loss this year, try something new, and seek the joy of knowing that death is not the end.

SERMON SERIES

I Believe. Help My Unbelief.

Nov. 3-17

Church should be about the big things in your life and heart. It should be about joy and failure, about social struggles like poverty and racism, about ultimate questions like forgiveness and heaven. These are not questions that we face individually. God intended that there be a church because we cannot explore these questions apart from community. But it's not just any community. This is the body of Christ.

Because of the size of the issues and the expectations of our calling, Christian faith is always something that we will embrace with a degree of question or wonder. We will never move from a place of I believe, help my unbelief to a place of I believe 100%. Unbelief is a given with this gospel.

Nov. 3	Help My Unbelief
Nov. 10	What Does Love Look Like?
