SERVICE OF WORSHIP

November 24, 2019 • 8, 9:30 and 11 a.m.

ABOUT TODAY'S SERVICE

The book of Romans in the New Testament is the Apostle Paul's last and longest letter. He is writing to the new Christian community in Rome. Many Bible scholars view Romans as the culmination of Paul's theology. He is sharing all that he has come to know about Jesus Christ and what it means to follow him. In today's scripture reading, he offers us a list of what it means to be a true Christian, a true Christ follower. In 1863, in the midst of the civil war, President Lincoln proclaimed the first national day of Thanksgiving. Now as we prepare for our 156th American Thanksgiving, the Apostle's list offers us a way to gather around the table and truly be thankful.

WELCOME CENTER ART FOR ADVENT

Beginning Dec. 1, you can find the four candles of the Advent Wreath, representing hope, peace, joy and love. This year, we invite you to add your own story to these values that we celebrate every year. Where do you see hope in this world? Where do you see the need for hope? Come by anytime during Advent and use the Post-It Notes provided to contribute where you see the presence of and need for these Advent themes in our world. The result will be our collective dreams coming together to inform our prayers for this season.

A LOOK TOWARD NEXT SUNDAY. . .

For many of us, remembering “home” calls up fond memories. As we begin the season of Advent, we hear the song from Psalm 137. When the Babylonians conquered the Hebrew people, they took many of them into exile. In Babylon, the Hebrew people yearned to return to their home, to Jerusalem. There was a keen awareness that they were not home, and they spent time looking back to their past remembering home. But home is not only in our past. Presbyterian poet and author Frederick Buechner writes that “home is something for which we spend our entire lives searching.” Next Sunday, we will explore the old homeplace past, present and future.

THE CHURCH'S BOOK (Week of November 25, 2019)

The following daily Bible readings were written by Rev. Dr. Rodger Nishioka and are offered for your own personal devotion. You are invited to read the text, think about the reflection and questions and allow these to lead you in a time of prayer. Pray for your own journey of faith, pray for Village Church, pray for the community around you, and pray for all of creation.

Monday, Nov. 25

Psalm 30

I never hesitate to pray for healing. When I pray with someone who is sick, whose heart is broken, who is pained with grief, whose body is tired, who is nearing death, I always pray for healing trusting that the God who loves us will heal us and make us whole even in ways we do not expect or understand. This song gives thanks for God's healing, for turning our mourning into dancing. Trust that God is healing us all in God's time and for God's purposes and give thanks.

Tuesday, Nov. 26

Psalm 97

This song tells of the glory and power of the God of creation. God's power is revealed to us from the coastlands to the mountains and the sky and through fire and lightning. All of creation displays God's majesty. So, we are to rejoice and give thanks that the God of the universe is our God. Recall a time when you witnessed God's power through creation and give thanks.

Wednesday, Nov. 27

Psalm 105

This song starts with an invitation to give thanks to God and then moves quickly to praise. We are called to sing to God and to tell God of all God's wonderful works. At first, it may seem silly to tell God about all the wonderful things God has done for us. Can you recall a time when someone told you about something you did that was wonderful for them? How did that make you feel? It is the same with God. When we tell God of God's wonderful works, we let God know that we acknowledge God's amazing grace. As you pray today, tell God of the wonderful things God has done in your life.

Thursday, Nov. 28, Thanksgiving Day

Psalm 118

This song begins and ends with the same chorus calling on us to give thanks to the Lord, for he is good; his steadfast love endures forever. In Hebrew, the word for God's steadfast love is "hesed." Hesed is truly God's steadfast love but it is so much more. One writer describes hesed as "God's consistent, ever faithful, relentless, constantly pursuing, lavish, extravagant, unrestrained love." That is why we give thanks on this Thanksgiving Day!

Friday, Nov. 29

Psalm 122

This song is titled an "ascent" psalm partly because the city of Jerusalem sits atop a high plateau and the temple sits on a mount on that plateau. From all directions, as the people are going up the mountain, they would be singing and giving thanks. Recall a time when you were hiking and ascended a hill or a mountain. Remember reaching the top and give thanks to God for this memory and for those through all generations who continue to come to worship God.

Saturday, Nov. 30

Psalm 136

"Hesed," the Hebrew word translated as "God's steadfast love" appears here 26 times. Hebrew scholars believe this song was the center of a worship service of thanksgiving. The Hebrew people would gather and recite all the ways that God has been faithful to them. After each event, they would sing "hesed." As you prepare for the worship of God tomorrow, remember God's many acts of faithfulness and sing of God's steadfast love, God's "hesed," that endures forever!

ADVENT SERMON SERIES

I Won't Be Home for Christmas

Dec. 1-24

Advent is a season of waiting. The church is always in Advent, because we are always waiting on what God will do next. Although it is only this time of year that we mark that posture of expectation. Why are we always waiting? Because we aren't home yet. We, nor the world itself, are as God intends us to be. So, as a people who are always "on the way," we continue the journey toward home. This series will rehearse some of the expressions of waiting (which can be another word for hope) that is part of this long tradition.

Dec. 1	The Old Homeplace
Dec. 8	No One Escapes Disappointment
Dec. 15	The End of Trouble
Dec. 22	On the Road to Mary's House
