SERVICE OF WORSHIP

December 29, 2019 • 8, 9:30 and 11 a.m.

ABOUT TODAY'S SERVICE

The story of Zechariah is familiar in the weeks before Christmas, so what might it offer after? This time of year often brings reflection with it: what the past months have meant to us and what the lasting effects will be. It is good to remember. But how are we to do that well?

A LOOK TOWARD NEXT SUNDAY. . .

Wise ones came from the East, following the light of a star that led them to the Christ child. On Epiphany Sunday we celebrate God revealing Jesus to the Magi, and to all of us, as the Light of the World. The Magi offered gifts of gold, frankincense, and myrrh, but what else did they bring? What might we bring?

THE CHURCH'S BOOK (Week of December 30, 2019)

The following daily Bible readings were written by Rev. Sally Wright and are offered for your own personal devotion. You are invited to read the text, think about the reflection and questions and allow these to lead you in a time of prayer. Pray for your own journey of faith, pray for Village Church, pray for the community around you, and pray for all of creation.

Monday, Dec. 30

Luke 1:68-79

Zechariah, a Temple priest, recounts the ways God redeems God's people including the ways that the Christ child will prepare the way, teach knowledge about salvation and forgive the sins of the people. Look up hymn #109 "Blest Be The God of Israel." In what ways does the hymn echo the scriptures? In what ways does the hymn differ from the scripture text?

Tuesday, Dec. 31

Luke 2:6-20

This familiar passage in Luke shows part of the story that we typically tell on Christmas: the angles and the shepherds (not the Kings, we find them in Matthew 2.) Look up hymn #128, "Infant Holy, Infant Lowly." I love to ponder on the juxtaposition between the lowliness of the shepherds and the infant to the exalted status of angles and the Christ. I wonder if this echos the juxtaposition of humanity with God and the extraordinariness that God's would come to our level. What do you notice among the text and the hymn?

Wednesday, Jan. 1

Luke 2:22-39

Just as every Jewish first born son was dedicated at the Temple, so too was Jesus. In this passage, we read Simeon singing God's blessings by allowing Simeon to see the Messiah child. An African American spiritual based upon this text is hymn #126 "Jesus, Jesus, O What a Wonderful Child." Find the Mariah Carey version on Youtube.com. What is your experience listening? I can't help but dance. What about you?

Thursday, Jan. 2

Matthew 2:1-12

Here come the "three kings" of our traditional Christmas narrative. It is a common held understanding among scholars that these three people were closer to three astrologers or scholars of their day rather than three king of 1st Century CE nation-states. Although I am confident, "We Three Astrologers of Orient Are" has a much different ring than our traditional carol. Open up to hymn #151 "We Three King of Orient Are" and consider other ways that the scripture and text differ and the ways in which they are similar.

Friday, Jan. 3

Psalms 98

I am so tied to the "Joy to the World" being about Christ at Christmas that I am hardly even able to associate it with the text that inspired it. Perhaps it is the distinction between the Psalm not explicitly being about Jesus and the hymn being all about Jesus. Or perhaps it is my whole life singing this Christmas carol and not considering which text it was based on. Perhaps your eyes and ears can separate the Christmas from hymn #134 and consider it more closely based upon Psalm 98.

Saturday, Jan. 4

Psalms 100

Let us end this week with a Psalm of Thanksgiving. Look back upon your Advent and Christmas seasons. For what do you give thanks? In what ways have you seen Christ present these seasons? Listen to hymn # 155 "Raise of Song of Gladness." What would your three line song of praise to God be for the past 4 weeks?

SERMONS

Dec. 29 The Lord Remembers... And? - Rev. Zach Walker

Jan. 5 The Fourth Gift of the Magi - Rev. Melanie Hardison preaching

Sermon Series: Who Do People Say That I Am?

The birth of Jesus comes with many claims regarding his identity. Who is this child? The Angelic choir called him the messiah. Gabriel called him God's son. Some preferred the name Immanuel. All this and more to describe the child of manger straw. But how do we describe Jesus now? Jesus asked his own followers, "Who do you say that I am?" There's not one answer to that question. Oh, it's possible to answer it by quoting the creeds "his only son, our Lord." But a survey of the Gospel writers reveals that each gospel writer speaks of Jesus differently. Over the next few weeks, we will listen to each Gospel writer's response to the question, "Who do you say that I am?" We will end the series reflecting on how our understanding of who Jesus is influences our understanding of who we are to be.

Jan. 12 Mark: The Man in the Wilderness
Jan. 19 Matthew: The Teacher
Jan. 26 Luke: The One From the Future
Feb. 2 John: The Man of the Hour
Feb. 9 Acts: Repeating Jesus
