

SERVICE OF WORSHIP

May 28, 2017 • 8, 9:30 and 11 a.m.

ABOUT TODAY'S SERVICE

Tucked between stories of healing, persecution and arrests is this story about an organizational meeting. It seems a little tedious at first, but reveals some things about leadership and change which we might find instructive in a world that is forever changing. As God continues to speak into our lives and this world, how are we called to be new and evolving as well?

GOD'S PEOPLE GATHER

Prelude

Lamento

Call to Worship

Rev. Len Carrell

We gather because we share one hope,
hope in God the creator, redeemer, and sustainer.

We gather because we are recipients of grace,
grace given to us so that we might flourish.

We gather because we are called,
some to be preachers or poets or prophets,
some to be healers or builders or analysts,
some to be artists or musicians or dancers,
some to be advocates or teachers or counselors.

We have each been given different gifts,
all in service of the same Lord,
the one we worship and praise.

*Hymn, No. 240

Alleluia, Alleluia! Give Thanks
ALLELUIA NO. 1

*Prayer of Confession

Merciful God,
We treat the earth as if it is replaceable.
We treat our children as if they are too difficult and our elders as if they are no longer relevant.
We treat our friends as if they have no needs of their own and our enemies as if they are evil incarnate.
We treat you as if you are little more than a cosmic custodian,
called upon when we need help cleaning up a mess.
Give us new ways of seeing, O God,
and more faithful ways of living. (Silent prayer)

*Assurance of God's Grace

PROCLAMATION OF THE WORD

Call to Prayer

Prayers of the People and the Lord's Prayer

Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name.

Thy kingdom come, thy will be done, on earth as it is in heaven.

Give us this day our daily bread;

and forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors;

and lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil.

For thine is the kingdom and the power and the glory, forever. Amen.

RESPONSE TO THE WORD

Affirmation of Faith: from the Confession of 1967

The life, death, resurrection, and promised coming of Jesus Christ has set the pattern for the church's mission.

His human life involves the church in the common life of all people. His service to men and women commits the church to work for every form of human well-being.

His suffering makes the church sensitive to all human suffering so that it sees the face of Christ in the faces of persons in every kind of need.

His crucifixion discloses to the church God's judgment on the inhumanity that marks human relations, and the awful consequences of the church's own complicity in injustice.

In the power of the risen Christ and the hope of his coming, the church sees the promise of God's renewal of human life in society and of God's victory over all wrong.

WORSHIP NOTES

Occasional Reflections on the Elements of Worship

These reflections are written by Village's staff, and it is our hope that knowing a bit more about some of the individual components of the church service may help us to experience more fully the gifts of this time together.

Hymns

written by Ryan Main and Elisa Bickers

Hymns serve as an opportunity to join together in Christian community through the uniting of our individual voices for a musical moment that is greater than the sum of its parts. These carefully selected songs give us time to sing God's praises, proclaim our concerns, or amplify the message of the day. Joyous or solemn, rousing or introspective; these musical selections allow us to bring our own hearts and voices to worship through song.

It is easy to assume that all hymns were born in grand moments of inspiration - mountain-top experiences, for the coronation of some ancient king, or the like. That is certainly true for many of our very favorite hymns. However, the more likely hymn birthplace by far is the common, human experience. For example, both text and tune of today's final hymn were written during an extreme heat wave in St. Louis in 1966. While scrambling around her un-air-conditioned home, trying to pack up her two-year-old child and elderly mother for a journey to Houston to escape the heat, the author found herself bitten by the hymn bug. There, amidst the sweat and hurry, she was inspired to compose a prayer and meditation on the theme of light. This story also serves as a welcome reminder: sometimes, incredible creativity strikes us when we think we are supposed to be doing something else.

THE CHURCH'S BOOK (Week of May 28, 2017)

The following daily Bible readings were written by Dr. Rodger Nishioka and are offered for your own personal devotion. You are invited to read the text, think about the reflection and questions and allow these to lead you in a time of prayer. Pray for your own journey of faith. Pray for Village Church and our mission. Pray for God's world.

Hebrews 12:1-2

On this Memorial Day when the United States remembers those who have so faithfully served our nation, the writer of Hebrews reminds us of the "great cloud of witnesses" that surround us. These witnesses are all the faithful men and women who have died and are now in heaven. Given the imagery of running a race, we do well to remember that these witnesses are like those who stand along the race route cheering for the runners. So remember this day those who have died and know that they are even now rooting for us as we follow Jesus.

Tuesday, May 30

Hebrews 12:3-13

As the reading from Hebrews continues, the writer calls us to remember that because Jesus endured so much, when we face hardship and struggle, we should not get discouraged. The writer quotes from Proverbs 3:11-12 and reminds us that discipline helps to shape and mature us. Like a loving parent, God desires the best for us and allows us to face struggles and challenges so that we might grow more dependent upon God than upon ourselves. Reflect on your life and recall times of struggle. How did God see you through those times?

Wednesday, May 31

Hebrews 12:14-17

Today the writer of Hebrews tells us to "pursue peace" and holiness (living rightly according to God) so that others will see the Lord. The message here is that through our living peace-filled and holy lives, others will see God at work in us. The truism that "actions speak louder than words" resonates here. How will you pursue peace and holiness today so that others will notice and see the Lord in you?

Hebrews 12:18-24

In the days before Jesus Christ, the people of God were terrified of encountering God because God was so powerful and awesome that to come face to face with God meant certain death. But Jesus Christ, God in human flesh, changed all that. God came to the world in the person of Jesus Christ so that all of creation might relate to God in a new way. God is still all powerful and awesome but in the humbleness of Jesus, we can approach God without fear. Give thanks to God today for the new covenant between God and creation revealed in Jesus Christ.

Friday, June 2

Hebrews 12:25-29

In her last letter to her husband George Burns, actress and comedian Gracie Allen wrote, "Never place a period where God has placed a comma." Such wisdom is echoed in today's reading. When the writer of Hebrews tell us to "not refuse the one who is speaking," that one is God. The verb here is a continuous one and tells us that God is still speaking. So how do you hear God today? One friend told me that she hears God in the early morning singing of the birds. Another told me that she hears God in the healthy cries of infants. How do you hear God speaking to you?

Saturday, June 3

Hebrews 13:1-8

The reading today includes two of my favorites: verse two and verse eight. Throughout the Bible, God calls on us to demonstrate special care for three specific groups of people: orphans, widows, and strangers. In the ancient world and in many places today, orphans, widows, and strangers are abandoned. And verse eight reminds us of the constancy of Jesus Christ. In the midst of all that is changing around us, be heartened in the sure knowledge that the grace of God revealed to us in Jesus Christ will never change. Thanks be to God!

2. Service Projects (work on mission/service projects together)
3. Faith & Film (watch a movie/eat together, followed by discussion)
4. Outdoor Activities (gather for walks, bike rides, etc.)

We also have a Single Adult Leadership Team in place with eight members: Ben Hard, Dee Couch, Jean Jennings, Judy Wiseman, Mary Kapka, Joni Kimsey, Denise Ray and Richard Frederick. This team is working to create programming opportunities for 2017. The Village staff contact for this new ministry is Cindy Wilcox, director of Connectional Ministries.

The Single Adults just completed their first service project last Saturday, May 13, which included building an outdoor prayer labyrinth next to our Community Garden at the Village Church Reverend Robert and Shirley Meneilly Center for Mission (99th & Mission Rd.). Below is information about two more upcoming events. RSVP to Liz Middleton at liz.middleton@villagepres.org.

Living Unafraid In a Frightening World

When Easter was over and the world got back to normal, some recognized there was a new normal now. The world today is a place of crosses. Bodies fail and hearts break, systems and structures crush the powerless. There is enough in this world to scare you to death. But Jesus is alive now—there is a new normal. Jesus is alive now, so we can live, even in this world, as a people who are living unafraid in a frightening world.
