

SERVICE OF WORSHIP

August 27, 2017 • 9:30 and 11 a.m.

ABOUT TODAY'S SERVICE

Each year our youth lead us in worship as they share their summer experiences and how God has been at work in them. This year we look toward the sermon series that will start after Labor Day, "It Takes a Village;" students are reflecting on their experiences of community and the ways in which God works through those that surround us. Community is not without its challenges, but the Biblical story points to us being better when we are together. How might the challenge and reward of community be instructive to us as we reflect on our own life experiences?

Call to Worship

Lucy Minor and Ella Hans (9:30 a.m.)
Sydney Newton and Sophie Henschel (11 a.m.)

We gather together to praise God who cares for all.

And so our desire is to give thanks with our whole hearts.

We gather together to praise God who does not abandon God's creation.

And so our desire is to steward this world and all God's creation.

We gather together to praise God who cares for the lowly.

And so our desire is to love and care for all people.

We gather together to dwell in God's Word, to build up one another, and give thanks.

And so our desire is to pray, to seek grace and mercy, and to sing!

*Prayer of Confession

William Muller (9:30 a.m.)
Olivia Perry (11 a.m.)

Merciful God,

We confess that so often we do not care for each other the way You call us to.

We pass by our brothers and sisters when they need us most.

We speak unkind words.

We view our differences as inferiorities.

Forgive us, Lord.

Help us to embrace our differences,

to build each other up,

and to invite the stranger in as we would our own family.

Empower us to build a community that reflects Your goodness,

Your grace, and Your love. (Silent prayer)

THE CHURCH'S BOOK (Week of August 27, 2017)

The following daily Bible readings were written by Dr. Rodger Nishioka and are offered for your own personal devotion. You are invited to read the text, think about the reflection and questions and allow these to lead you in a time of prayer. of prayer. Pray for your own journey of faith, pray for Village Church, pray for the community around you, and pray for all of creation.

Jeremiah 1:4-10

Bible scholars call Jeremiah "the reluctant boy prophet." When God calls him, Jeremiah protests because of his age and because he believes he is not eloquent. The tone of God's response is one of annoyance. God is not pleased with Jeremiah's self-doubts. The call of Jeremiah reminds us that when God calls, God also equips us to accomplish those tasks that God sets before us. However daunting God's call may seem to you, trust that with God's help, you will accomplish it.

Tuesday, Aug. 29

1 Samuel 3-4:1

This is a story of how God uses an older adult, Eli, and a young boy, Samuel, to accomplish God's plans for all of Israel. Samuel is being called by God but does not know it. He needs Eli to help him realize that God is calling. God tells Samuel what is about to happen and the consequences are grave for Eli. But Eli insists that Samuel tell him. We need one another to know what God is calling us to do in these days. We need one another, all generations, to discern God's words of comfort and challenge.

Wednesday, Aug. 30

2 Kings 5:1-19

Much of what is written and preached about from this story focuses on the Aramean commander Naaman and his healing and conversion through the prophet Elisha. But what is often missed is that the story hinges on one person: an unnamed Hebrew slave girl. Having been taken from her homeland, she still chooses to help the commander be healed and through her, he and his whole household come to know God. What generosity and what faith! Young people often do that. They see hope and possibility where others do not or cannot.

Thursday, Aug. 31

Luke 2:41-52

This is the only story we have in the gospels about Jesus as a young person. At first, it seems that Jesus gets lost but is that really the case? Instead of going home with his parents, he makes his way to the temple to learn more about God and when his exasperated parents finally find him, Jesus wonders why it did not occur to them that he would be in the temple, his "father's house." Young people have a way of showing us new and unexpected ways to be faithful to God just as the boy Jesus did for his parents.

Friday, Sept. 1

Acts 2:17-21

On the day of Pentecost when the Holy Spirit created the church, Peter explained what was happening by quoting from Joel 2:28-32. He names young people in particular as having two responsibilities: to be the church's prophets and visionaries. Prophets speak God's truth. Visionaries help us see the world as God sees it. Young people do that for us. We need them among us so that we may hear God's truth and see the world as God does.

Saturday, Sept. 2

1 Timothy 4:12-16

The Apostle Paul has appointed Timothy, a young man, to be the leader of the church at Ephesus. Apparently, it is not going well. Some of the older church members resent someone so young being their leader. Paul encourages Timothy to "not neglect the gift that is in you." Older persons bring a gift of wisdom gained through experience but many young people bring the gift of seeing a future unhindered by the past. Pray that God would open our hearts to receive the gifts God has given to young people so that instead of resenting the leadership of young people, we would welcome and celebrate it!

SERMON SERIES

It Takes a Village

We sometimes assume that Jesus, by the time he was old enough to talk, was fully aware that he was the Christ and knew just how to live as God's son in human history. But there were moments in the Gospel story where Jesus encountered others who seemed to teach him who he was or at least how to live as God's son. It's not too much to say that in some of these encounters Jesus learned how to be Jesus. There is not a one of us who comes to a life of faith and faithfulness without the mentoring of others. That seems to be true for Jesus as well. Perhaps we can learn from those who taught him.
