SERVICE OF WORSHIP

September 9, 2018 • 8, 9:30 and 11 a.m.

ABOUT TODAY'S SERVICE

Today we begin a new sermon series on the Book of Jonah. Jonah is never specifically called a prophet, nevertheless, like Amos and Hosea and Isaiah, Jonah is given a word from God to share with the people. Like Jeremiah and Moses, Jonah did not want the job. This short story is largely about Jonah's obstinance, pain, and lack of holy imagination. It is also about the extravagance of God's grace. So, this sermon series is entitled, "Prophet and Lost Statements."

Come, my Way, my Truth, my Life: Such a Way, as gives us breath:
Such a Truth, as ends all strife: Such a Life, as killeth death.

Come, My Light, my Feast, my Strength: Such a Light, as shows a feast:
Such a Feast, as mends in length: Such a Strength, as makes his guest.

Come, my Joy, my Love, my Heart: Such a Joy, as none can move:
Such a Love, as none can part: Such a Heart, as joys in love.

O Master, Let Me Walk with Thee
MARYTON

Offertory

Prophet's Song
Jane Marshall; Village Choir

To sing when fleeting breath and truant hope forbid,
To stand when gusts of fear at cyclone strength prevail,
To act when blanket heavy apathy surrounds,
To roar when falsehood clothed in silence overwhelms;
This then is faith: 'the assurance of things hoped for,
The conviction of things not seen,
And in God's good grace to sing, to stand, to act, to roar.
We are called to live this faith.

-John Thornburg

*Response (from Hymn, No. 619)

Praise, my soul, the God of heaven; glad of heart your carols raise;
Ransomed, healed, restored, forgiven, who, like me, should sing God's praise?

MUSIC NOTES

Today our worship music explores Rev. Are's theme of the extraordinary power of call in our lives. In The Call, composer Ralph Vaughan Williams sets a George Herbert poem about the poet's call to God, as well as God's call to the poet, to simple and searching folk-like melody.

In the Village Choir's Offertory Anthem, Prophet's Song, poet John Thornburg challenges us, "to sing...to stand...to act...to roar..." even when the odds are against us. The composer and poet then state peacefully "this then is faith" in a slower tempo, with the singers cradled in warmer harmonies from the organ.

We hope you find beauty and inspiration for your call in life in today's worship music.

THE CHURCH'S BOOK (Week of September 10, 2018)

The following daily Bible readings were written by Rev. Rodger Nishioka and are offered for your own personal devotion. You are invited to read the text, think about the reflection and questions and allow these to lead you in a time of prayer. of prayer. Pray for your own journey of faith, pray for Village Church, pray for the community around you, and pray for all of creation.

Monday, Sept. 10

Jonah 1:1-3

Nineveh is a major city in Assyria, the most powerful nation in the region. The Assyrians conquered Israel and are hated by the Hebrew people. When God calls Jonah to go to them, Jonah goes the opposite direction likely because he both hates the Assyrians and fears them. When have you heard God's call to do something and you resisted? Why?

Tuesday, Sept. 11

Jonah 1:4-6

When Jonah boards a ship going the opposite direction from Nineveh, God causes a great storm to rise up against the boat. The sailors call out to their various gods. When the captain of the ship finds Jonah asleep, he wakes him and tells Jonah to call out to God. Even the sailors who believed in other gods understood the power of faith. When you face a storm in your life, be like the sailors and call out to God.

Wednesday, Sept. 12

Jonah 1:7-10

In the midst of the storm, the sailors cast lots, a practice mentioned 70 times in the Old Testament. This involves throwing a collection of symbols with one being different. Whoever chooses the different symbol is thought to be chosen for a reason. When Jonah is chosen, he explains that he is trying to flee from God. The sailors know that no one can run from God. Be convicted and comforted in this. No matter where you are, God is always with you.

Thursday, Sept. 13

Jonah 1:11-12

When the sailors ask Jonah what they can do to calm the violent seas, Jonah tells them to cast him into the ocean, but remarkably, they resist. Two things are significant here. First, Jonah has come to understand that he cannot run from God and God's calling. Second, the sailors show great kindness in refusing to throw Jonah overboard. Jonah and the sailors are willing to sacrifice themselves for the other. What amazing love among complete strangers!

Friday, Sept. 14

Jonah 1:13-16

Bible scholars talk about these verses as the conversion of the sailors. After trying to row against the storm that only grows more fierce, they relent and throw Jonah overboard. When the sea ceases and the winds calm, they "feared the Lord even more." This fear is more awe and respect than fright. They recognize the awesome power of God and worship God. In the presence of God's power, we can do little else but to worship.

Saturday, Sept. 15

Jonah 1:17

We cannot know Jonah's mind, but most scholars think that Jonah in asking the sailors to throw him overboard, had accepted that he is to die as punishment for disobeying God. Yet God has a surprise in store for Jonah. Not only are the sailors in the boat converted to faith in God, but Jonah is converted, too. When God saves Jonah by having a fish swallow him up, God signals that Jonah still has work to do. Trust this. Know that God's call is always real and reliable.

CURRENT SERMON SERIES

Prophet & Lost Statements: A Series on Jonah

Jonah was called by God to share a holy word in Nineveh. Nineveh was the last place that Jonah wanted to go. There were good reasons for that. But after a few days in a fish to think things over, Jonah agrees. He's still not happy about it. Some of the prophets were bothered that they had to speak words of judgment (Jeremiah and Isaiah would be among them). Jonah was worried that God might be gracious. So, this prophet tries to get lost.....but one thing that will not happen with a gracious God..... try as you might, you won't be lost.
