

SERVICE OF WORSHIP

November 4, 2018 • 8, 9:30 and 11 a.m.

ABOUT TODAY'S SERVICE

In 1932, Princeton Seminary Professor Gerhardus Vos wrote that Christians live in the "already and not yet." Because of the life, death, and resurrection of Jesus Christ, we live in a time when the reign of God, the Kingdom of God, has already come. And yet, we realize that God's reign is not fully present. There is still violence and disease and sin in the world. So, while we live in the already of God's kingdom, we also live in the not yet. Peter was writing to "an already and not yet church" in the first century. Twenty centuries later, his words still convict and inspire. As we commit ourselves once again to live the Gospel of Jesus Christ, how shall we live in the already and not yet?

Missional God, You call us to live every day with hope.

RESPONSE TO THE WORD

*Hymn (Commissioned for Village Church's Commitment Sunday)

How Can I Mirror You, Jesus My Friend
SLANE

How can I mirror you, Jesus, my friend, being reflective of all you intend?
Mold me and say what you want me to be so that my neighbor will see you in me.

What is the meeting place, Lord of my heart,
in which your people can each find their part?
Show me the pathway on which I belong;
give me the courage to offer my song.

Why do I look away, Hope-Shaping Lord,
when I see neighbors demeaned or ignored?
Give me new vision and focus my lens
So I am able to see You in them.

Make us a circle with room to expand,
born of Your mercy, and drawn by Your hand.
Make us a village which all can call home
brimming with hope, Lord, and filled with shalom.

Offertory

Godspell: All Good Gifts

music: Stephen Schwartz; Anthony Perkins, Jr.

We plow the fields and scatter the good seed on the land..
But it is fed and watered by God's almighty hand..
He sends us snow in winter, the warmth to swell the grain...
The breezes and the sunshine, and soft refreshing rain...
All good gifts around us
Are sent from Heaven above.
So thank the Lord, oh thank the Lord for all his love...
We thank thee then, O Father, for all things bright and good
The seedtime and the harvest, our life, our health, our food.
No gifts have we to offer for all thy love imparts
But that which thou desirest, our humble thankful hearts!
All good gifts around us
So thank the Lord, oh thank the Lord for all his love...
I really wanna thank you Lord!

*Response (from Hymn, No. 609)

Praise God, from whom all blessings flow. Praise God, all creatures high and low.

Alleluia, alleluia!

Praise God, in Jesus fully known: Creator, Word, and Spirit one.

Alleluia, alleluia!

Alleluia, alleluia, alleluia!

MUSIC NOTES

Today's second hymn, "How Can I Mirror You, Jesus My Friend," by celebrated hymn writer John Thornburg, was commissioned specifically for Village Presbyterian Church. Every week during the series, "Living Toward God's Promised Day," we have sung one verse of it. On this Commitment Sunday we sing the hymn in its entirety, offering it to God and each other as a renewal of our dedication to this community and world.

The 9:30 a.m. Village Ringers Prelude, "Passacaglia," was written by Village Choir member Dale Ramsey, a highly regarded organist and composer in the Kansas City area.

THE CHURCH'S BOOK (Week of November 5, 2018)

The following daily Bible readings were written by the Rev. Becky Chamberlain and are offered for your own personal devotion. You are invited to read the text, think about the reflection and questions and allow these to lead you in a time of prayer. Pray for your own journey of faith, pray for Village Church, pray for the community around you, and pray for all of creation.

Monday, Nov. 5

Ephesians 2:8-10

God is not an accountant, keeping track of our good deeds and our bad deeds, and if we are lucky, when it comes time to balance our account, we will have more assets than debits. NO! It is hard to accept grace because it is so contrary to the way the world operates – quid pro quo. Grace is freely given, not because we are good, but because God is good. It's almost too good to be true.

Tuesday, Nov. 6

Philippians 3:20

Today U.S. citizens enjoy a privilege that many in the world do not. We get to vote, to cast our ballots for who should represent us in government. Paul reminds us, though, that our true citizenship is in heaven. Our highest loyalty is as citizens of the kin-dom of God, and to live out God's priorities in this world. The song says, "This world is not my home; I'm just a' passing through..."

Wednesday, Nov. 7

Psalms 32

The writer describes how some experience of sin was eating her/him up alive, mind, body, and spirit. When silence and denial became too much s(he) confessed, and forgiveness was immediate. The psalm could have ended there, but the writer is so transformed by undeserved forgiveness, s(he) becomes a joyful witness to the unconditional love of God that wipes the slate clean and remembers our sin no more.

Thursday, Nov. 8

John 5:1-9

Jesus asked the sick man, immobile at the side of the pool for 38 years, "Do you want to be made well?" Isn't it obvious a paralyzed man would desperately want to be cured? But Jesus' question had a purpose. It asked the man to consider how a cure would drastically change his life and if he would be willing to embrace those changes. Was he willing to give up a familiar routine, limited though it was, to risk a radically new way of living?

Friday, Nov. 9

John 12: 23-26, 32

In Genesis 45, Joseph forgives his brothers and tells them, "You meant it for evil, but God meant it for good." Jesus' crucifixion is similar. He decried violence, but was a victim of it. His killers wanted to silence him and incite fear. But instead, in a short time, everything changed – for Jesus, his followers, and for us. The intent of the cross did not determine its outcome – "the seed dies...but it bears much fruit."

Saturday, Nov. 10

Mark 16:1-8

The shorter version of Mark's story of Jesus' resurrection is not a happy ending. No one sees Jesus, no one says anything. But this is good, because it says that God is the one who raises the dead. The silence of the women did not negate the truth of the resurrection. Thanks be to God! Our human failures and fears cannot keep God from accomplishing God's purpose in the world!

UPCOMING SERMON SERIES

Getting Real

We, at Village, are good people. We really are. But we are not perfect. There would not be a one of us who has escaped feelings from time to time of guilt or disappointment. So, how do we deal with failure? How do we deal with burdens that can weigh heavy at times? In this sermon series we will explore the realities of sin, grace and what to do with a second chance, or third, or however many we might need.
