

SERVICE OF WORSHIP

December 30, 2018 • 8, 9:30 and 11 a.m.

ABOUT TODAY'S SERVICE

Maybe this is what Paul's Christmas would have looked like, if Paul had any concept of Christmas. Paul is showering the Colossian church with gifts and garments galore. He is teaching the church that we have some things we need to try on. He teaches the church what we wear has an effect on our attitude. This is a metaphor, of course, and a good one for Paul because he knows that the good news of Christ can be seen on us. The gifts Paul brings everyone for Christmas reminds us of the true gift of Christmas – "let the peace of Christ rule in your hearts...and be thankful!"

Words of Welcome

Rev. Len Carrell

Call to Worship

Rev. Dr. Rodger Nishioka

Lord Jesus, You have come.

You have come with high choirs of angels, and with lowly shepherds and sheep.
You have come with Magi from the east, and with treasure chests and stars.

Lord Jesus, You have come.

Bringing good news to the poor, and release to the captives.
Bringing hope, peace, joy and love.

Lord Jesus, You have come.

And we have come to adore You.

*Hymn, No. 114

Away in a Manger
CRADLE SONG

*Prayer of Confession

God of goodness and mercy,
You know how we have stumbled keeping Christmas in our lives:
In considering the needs of others,
caring for both old and young,
sharing more love than expecting it,
keeping in prayer what others carry inside,
letting our light shine forth and our shadows fall behind,
burying our ugliness, and growing our joy.
May Christmas be our spirit all life long.
Forgive us when we stumble, and receive us anew. (Silent Prayer)

*Assurance of God's Grace

*Response (from Hymn, No. 113)

Angels we have heard on high, sweetly singing o'er the plains, and the mountains in reply echoing their joyous strains.
Gloria in excelsis Deo! Gloria in excelsis Deo!

*Passing of the Peace

PROCLAMATION OF THE WORD

Call to Prayer (from Hymn, No. 115)

Be near me, Lord Jesus; I ask thee to stay close by me forever and love me, I pray.
Bless all the dear children in thy tender care, and fit us for heaven to live with thee there.

Prayers of the People and the Lord's Prayer

Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name.
Thy kingdom come, thy will be done, on earth as it is in heaven.
Give us this day our daily bread;
and forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors;
and lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil.
For thine is the kingdom and the power and the glory, forever. Amen.

Starting Jan. 9 for church members
Jan. 14 for the community

The Gathering invites you to begin the new year with an Epiphany Potluck next Sunday, Jan. 6, immediately following the Gathering worship service at 5 p.m. Bring your gifts of food to share, or just come and eat. If you've never worshiped with the Gathering, come try a new thing. All are invited, because it's always better when we Gather together.

THE CHURCH'S BOOK (Week of December 31, 2019)

The following daily Bible readings were written by the Rev. Len Carrell and are offered for your own personal devotion. You are invited to read the text, think about the reflection and questions and allow these to lead you in a time of prayer. Pray for your own journey of faith, pray for Village Church, pray for the community around you, and pray for all of creation.

Monday, Dec. 31

Matthew 1:18-25

In Matthew's telling of the Christmas story, it is important that the infant is named "Jesus." After a description of family lineage, the last line of the first chapter says, ". . . and he named him Jesus." The hymn "Love Has Come" (Glory To God Hymnal #110) imagines that wondrous moment of naming a child and seeing the glow in a new mother's eyes as she looks at her baby. "What is the name her heart is saying? Love!" It is precious and holy to see love in the face of a baby.

Tuesday, Jan. 1

Luke 2:8-14

The text of the hymn "From Heaven Above" (Glory To God #111) is written by Martin Luther. In the hymnal notes, it tells us that Luther wrote this for his children to sing at home on Christmas Eve. It is a retelling of the Luke story. But verse four caught my attention. Suddenly the ones who are singing become the shepherds who spread the good news of what was heard and seen. "I too must sing with joyful tongue the sweetest ancient cradlesong."

Wednesday, Jan. 2

Isaiah 9:2-6

The hymn "Where Shepherds Lately Knelt" (Glory To God #120) asks how can we be surprised to find Isaiah there. For Isaiah, the Christ child has great authority and many names: Wonderful Counselor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace. The authority the child possesses is to rule with "endless peace." The beautiful hymn captures the promise Isaiah speaks of—this child, this son, this Prince of Peace is for us all.

Thursday, Jan. 3

Isaiah 11:1-9

Jesse was King David's father. The prophet Isaiah tell us the Messiah will come from King David's family. Jesus is that "shoot," that "branch" that will grow out from the roots of a stump. The image of new life that springs forth from a dry old stump is worth our recognition during this season. It is familiar to us at Easter, perhaps newer to us at Christmas. Could it be an image of the incarnation? Read through the lines of "Lo, How a Rose E'er Blooming" (Glory To God Hymnal #129). It seems to imagine the new life this way. "It came, a floweret bright, . . . To show God's love aright, . . . enfleshed, yet very God"

Friday, Jan. 4

Psalms 98

Isaac Watts and George Frederick Handel must have grown up in marching band together because "Joy to the World" (Glory To God Hymnal #134) is the greatest anthem I have ever heard. This song just makes hearts want to stand up and make a joyful noise to the Lord. This song is so earth rousing. The seas roar and the floods clap their hands. It is a song that declares the victory of God over sin and death. It is a chorus that makes both the heavens and the earth sing together, in one voice, the wonders of God's love.

Saturday, Jan. 5

Isaiah 11:6

The John L. Bell hymn "Who Would Think That What Was Needed" (Glory To God Hymnal #138) is a new one to me and to my Christmas repertoire. The repeated stanza at the end makes an important discovery. "God surprises earth with heaven, coming here on Christmas Day." We're so ready for Christmas to be here that we forget just how scandalously God surprised the earth with a baby. As startling as a lamb that will lie down with a wolf, God continues to surprise us. God's ways are not our ways. God's vision for us is far greater than our understanding.

THEOLOGY THURSDAYS – Happy New Year Young Adults! We resume Theology Thursdays at 6:30 p.m. Jan. 10, with “Her Story.” It's astounding how many of our lesser known Biblical characters are female. They are featured prominently among our sacred stories, but they are much less likely to appear in Sunday School lessons. In this era of #MeToo, as our world awakens to our long-held practice of silencing women, we're revisiting the stories of women who have shaped our faith in the shadows of thousands of years of patriarchy. In this series, we look at Her stories. More online: VillagePresYA.org/thursdays.
