GOD'S PEOPLE GATHER

Prelude

Call to Worship

Rev. Zach Walker

And the Word became flesh. It is a Word like no other word:

It is a Word of grace. It is a Word of life.

It is a Word that speaks the very heart of God.

This Word full of grace and truth became flesh.

This Word like no other word became flesh like all flesh and dwelt among us.

And dwells among us.

The Word came down to be with us and to lift us up that we may be with God.

*Hymn, No. 132 (st. 1,3)

Good Christian Friends, Rejoice
IN DULCI JUBILO

*Unison Prayer of Praise

Most gracious God,

Surely the angels are singing,

for Christ is born.

He is born of woman, as is every child,

yet, born of your power as was no other child.

Surely the angels are still singing,

for the light shines in the darkness

joy is proclaimed to all people, and there is good news for all your children.

Surely the angels are singing,

for the glory of heaven has pushed into time,

and the redemption of the whole creation can be seen.

Your redemption can be seen in a child who breathed in flesh that we might breathe your Spirit.

In the name of the incarnate one we pray. Amen.

THE CHURCH'S BOOK (Week of December 26, 2016)

The following daily Bible readings were written by Rev. Len Carrell and are an offering for your own personal devotion. You are invited to read the text, think about the reflection and questions and allow these to lead you in a time of prayer. Pray for your own journey of faith. Pray for Village Church and our mission. Pray for God's world.

Monday, Dec. 26

Acts 4:20 – Hymn 110, Love Has Come

In this verse from Acts, the Apostles proclaim boldly "we cannot keep from speaking about what we have seen and heard." This hymn focuses not only on the activity of love, but a love that is seen and heard as "God now asleep in the hay." Love indeed has come and "never will leave us." How have you seen and heard the light that shines in the darkness this Christmas?

Tuesday, Dec. 27

Isaiah 9:6 – Hymn 120, When Shepherds Lately Knelt

This week we have come to the place where shepherds knelt, because we find "room and welcome" for all of God's children. The promises of Isaiah find us there as well, whose hopes are fulfilled in Christ. Love is born as a sweet, frail baby. Love is born and burns its way into our hearts even in our "half-belief," "unasked, unforced, unearned." In the intimacy of the manger and the cross we are reminded we are not alone. Where did you feel the burning touch of God's love this season?

Wednesday, Dec. 28

Luke 2:6-20 – Hymn 128, Infant Holy, Infant Lowly

Luke's gospel takes a long look at the birth of Christ. This hymn is a montage of that miraculous night. Oxen lowing, angels singing, flocks sleeping, voices rejoicing. The text dates back to a Polish carol of the 13th-14th century. The fact that God chooses to come to us as an infant clothed in flesh is a tidings of great joy. Where do you find yourself in the montage?

Thursday, Dec. 29

Isaiah 11 – Hymn 129, Lo, How a Rose E're Blooming

This hymn imagines a shoot that springs from the seemingly dead stump of Jesse's lineage as a beautiful and fragrant rose. This text from Isaiah is the forerunner pointing to the coming of Christ. Indeed, Jesus came from the stump of Jesse, David's father, whose royal dynasty had lay dormant for 600 years. A dead, withered stump, plundered from its trunk, branches and fruit and out of it raises a new growth of hope. Hope out of despair, light in the darkness, "enfleshed, yet very God, from sin and death he saves us and lightens every load.

Friday, Dec. 30

Luke 2:22-39 – Hymn 148, Mary and Joseph Came to the Temple

This story is one of my favorites because it talks of two of God's devoted people longing for a new hope in their worship. Perhaps this song would have been better titled Anna and Simeon Meet Their Long Awaited Messiah. Their prayers have been answered; their eyes have seen salvation, their joy has been made complete, as a baby cradled in their arms. What if we could hold with care the God who holds us?

Saturday, Dec. 31

Psalm 98 – Hymn 134, Joy to the World

Issac Watts may not have intended for his lyrics to be used only on this day of Christmas, but for every day to be Christmas Day. The psalter is calling us to make a joyful noise, and this song does just that by asking "every heart" to make room for such joy. There was no room in the inn for the Christ child, but the joy that comes from his birth is making room for us. So repeat the sound of joy, repeat the sound of joy, forever.

During that time, she also pursued voice study in the Summer Master Class program of the Hochschule Mozarteum in Salzburg, Austria. Following her graduation she began teaching in high school, while also working as a church choir director. After moving to the United States of America, Jee-Yeun started to study again in voice and choral conducting at Pittsburg State University. She was a first place winner in the West Central Region of the National Association of Teachers of Singing in 2012 and a first place winner in the Barry Alexander International Vocal Competition.

NEW SERMON SERIES

I know that's what it says, but that's not what it means!

The Bible is a complicated book, written over hundreds of years in various context and diverse circumstances. And then, it is read 2,000 years later in a world and culture the Biblical writers could not have imagined. Given all of that, it's easy to misunderstand the Bible. When it is misunderstood the good news can often sound like bad news for some folks. When it is misunderstood it can often make the Bible more difficult to trust. In this sermon series, we will take just a few passages that have often been confusing and see if there is a life-giving word for us.

- Jan. 1 The Story of the Bible from Genesis to Revelation
- Jan. 8 "Women Keep Silent?" This Doesn't Sound Like Good News
- Jan. 15 Family Matters and the Cost of Following Jesus
- Jan. 22 "Divorce" – Why the Church has Read This Text to the Wrong People
- Jan. 29 "You Must be Born Again!"
- Feb. 5 "Jesus is the Only Way to Salvation." This is Not About You. This is About God.
- Feb. 12 "Be Perfect as Your Heavenly Father is Perfect." Intimidated yet?
- Feb. 19 The Only Safe Place for Hatred
- Feb. 26 Pray Without Ceasing
